Grangers Comprehensive plan update, Land Use Element

Mike Shuttleworth introduced himself as the new planner working for Yakima Valley Conference of Governments (YVCOG). Mike presented the staff report on the Land Use element. He mentioned that the projection growth tables and percentages were incomplete at this time. In conclusion he recommended that the board further review the goals and policies of this element.

There was group discussion regarding a second interchange in Granger. Mike Shuttleworth explained that the City would need to prove the need for the second interchange. He also mentioned some required qualifications in order to request a second interchange.

Commissioner Herrera discussed the huge task it was to try and plan for a 20 year period.

Mike Shuttleworth recommended speaking to the youth or their children and brainstorming with them. He gave some example situation of conversations he's had with his children and many times they have ideas that work and can help make these decisions for long term planning.
