Distinguishing Features of Work

This is general duty police work involving the protection of life and property, enforcement of laws and ordinances, maintenance of order, and presentation and investigation of crimes. Work is performed according to departmental regulations and procedures prescribed by superior officers and normally consists of routine patrol, traffic regulation, and crime prevention and investigation activities within a designated area on an assigned shift in patrol cars or on foot. Work involves a substantial element of personal danger and employees must be able to act without direct supervision and to exercise independent discretion in meeting emergencies.

All assignments in this class involve responsibility for recognizing the social importance of police functions, for tactful and courteous treatment of the public, and for conscientious and efficient performance of duties under little direct supervision. Employees may be assigned to work on special assignments which call upon specialized abilities and knowledge usually attained through experience as a uniformed police officer and general or special instructions received from superior officers who review work by personal inspection of reports and general approval of the effectiveness of the employee and the entire police service.

Examples of Work Performed (Illustrative Only)

- Patrols the city on foot or in an automobile to preserve law and order, to prevent and discover the commission of a crime(s), to enforce traffic and parking regulations, answers calls for service.
- Conducts preliminary investigations at a crime scene, administers first aid, gathers evidence, obtains witness statements, makes arrests, and takes prisoners/witnesses/victims to the station for questioning or booking, testifies in a court of law.
- Directs traffic, reports/investigates motor vehicle collisions, interviews witnesses, gathers information to make dispositions and refers them to the proper jurisdiction.
- When assigned to detective duties: searches crime scenes for and preserves physical evidence, locates and interviews witnesses, interrogates suspects, collects sworn statements from victims/witnesses/suspects, assists the preparation of cases for court, prepares case summaries and informs the prosecuting authority of the body of evidence available and of witnesses, testifies concerning results of the investigation.

- Arranges for technical assistance such as that provided by a specialist in ballistics, identification, laboratory analysis, or toxicology.
- Checks pawnshops/second hand stores/junk shops for stolen property, investigates bad check complaints, investigates reports of and attempts to locate missing persons, makes specialized vice investigations and apprehends violators.

Required Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

- Good general intelligence and emotional stability.
- Keen sense of observation and good memory.
- Knowledge of first aid principals and ability to learn proper application readily (During probationary period first aid certificates shall be acquired).
- Ability to cope with situations firmly, courteously, tactfully, and with respect for the rights of others.
- Ability to analyze situations quickly, calmly, and objectively, and to determine the proper course of action.
- Ability to understand and carry out oral and written instructions.
- Ability to write and speak effectively.
- Ability to learn quickly and interpret and apply effectively modern approved principles, practices, and procedures of police work, principles of crime investigations, techniques of interrogation and identification, and preservation of evidence, applicable Federal and State Laws and City Ordinances, and regulations and procedures of the Granger Police Department.
- Ability to develop skill in the use of firearms with semi-annual qualifications, non-lethal equipment or other PPE (Personal Protective Equipment), and defensive tactics.
- Ability to develop a touch typing skill of 20 GWPM (Gross Words Per Minute) within the probationary period at the employee's time & expense.
- Ability to operate a patrol car in a safe manner with due regard for the public and to successfully pass an EVOC (Emergency Vehicle Operators Course) Course on an annual or semi-annual basis.

Minimum Requirements

- Pursuant to RCW 41.12.070, applicant must be a United States Citizen who can read and write the English language.
